Far Infrared rays (FIR) are invisible lights with power to warm things, because they exist outside of red in visible light. Its electromagnetic waves are good for health and the frequencies of far infrared rays match the vibration of molecules of the human body. Because of the vibration of molecules, the body absorbs irradiated far infrared rays (FIR) and the temperature rises to improve the blood circulation. Ceramic is a kind of material that can radiate much of far-infrared rays (FIR).

FIR elastic support is made of ceramic fibers which radiate the FIR to accelerate body blood circulation and relieve the pain and swelling rapidly.

Furthermore, the 4-way stretching of circular knitting structure which provides good compression and comfortable fitting. Very breathable, highly recommended for warm weather climates and neoprene allergic patients. Also its cotton composition helps to absorb sweat efficiently to keep skin dry and comfortable.

Compression Stockings

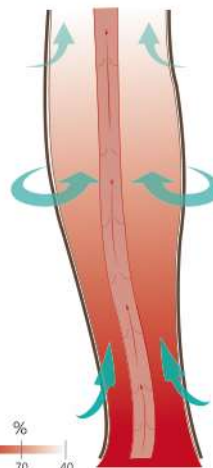

The graduated compression stockings helps your blood vessels work better. The veins get a boost pushing blood back to heart. Compression stockings can keep your legs from getting tired and achy and ease feet swelling and as well as help prevent and treat spider and varicose veins. The graduated compression stocking can provide therapeutic effect to accelerate the blood circulation, 100% pressure at ankle, and gradually up to calf is 70%, and thigh is 40%, therefore creating upward force of venous return.

Allbest® compression stocking high-tech advanced machines, stylish design, anatomical and, seamless knitting, four way stretch structure. We hope can make compression stocking to be worn comfortable and stylish, but it can achieve medical efficiency and you can cure or prevent venous disease in your ordinary life.

Varicose Veins

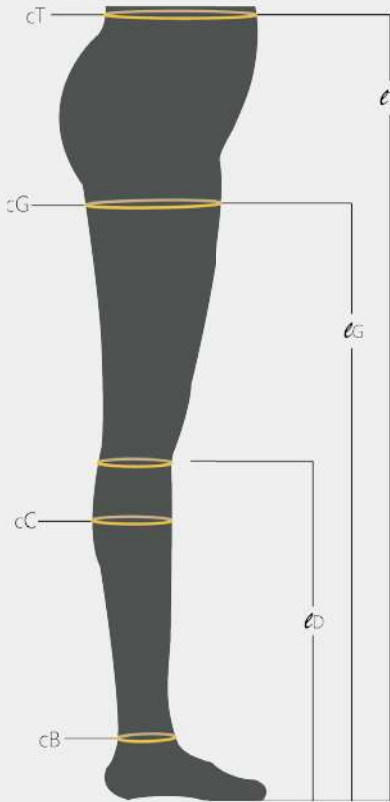

Veins have one-way valves that help keep blood flowing toward your heart. If the valves are damaged or weak, blood will back up and pool in your veins. It causes the veins to swell, which can lead to varicose veins.

Compression Therapy

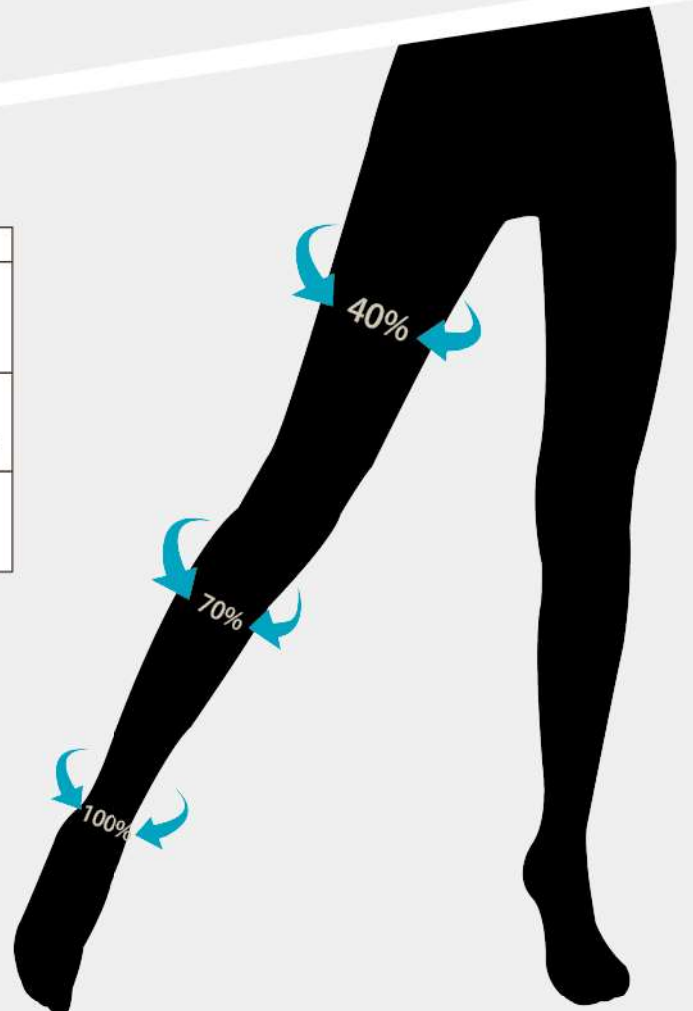

The graduated compression stockings helps your blood vessels work better.
